

I am opposed to any rule changes that will relax or make it easier for more consolidated corporate control of media. Restrictions should continue on the extent to which any corporation can own media within any one market.